

Welcome To MassMonopoly

We are an audience-focused new media firm blending creative talent with technical expertise. Our primary work focus is in the production of dynamic and compelling designs specifically tailored to the needs of your customers, your employees and your budget. Emerging technology and 21st century trends are our primary personal focus: yes, we own and use iPhone's, iPod's, and PlayStation3's and we know all about Adobe CS4 and RIA's and .net and .php... but we speak your language too! This focus shows in the campaigns we build across disciplines: broadcast design, original video content, multi-platform digital marketing, and educational portals. Collaboration is the life-blood of the creative process: clients, audiences, technologists, and artists are ALL involved from beginning to end. And yet—we do applaud you to set your own standards and create your own boundaries. Learn more...
